Memorandum to [REDACTED] reviews the R&D situation, concludes its not properly organized and suggests what is needed in organization, manpower and facilities to enable R&D to produce for the Agency in light of its responsibilities under NSC 10/2. He finds leadership lacking and suggests consideration of [REDACTED] as a possible Chief of R&D.

Comment: this is one helluva paper in which [REDACTED] acting with drawing-room courtesy and diplomacy, literally takes the hide off the Agency and tacks it to the barn door; it must have had considerable impact in paving the way for the later actions of Drum and de Florez. What was [REDACTED] role in this act ?
